This measure confers upon then great responsibilities of self government and provides machinery whereby Irish unity is attainable through constitutional means."

In referring to Indian unrest the

"The duke of Connaught has inaugurated new councils in India of new political responsibilities may secure progress for the administration and an early appeasment of the political

"I hope that the negotiations for a trade agreement with Russia shall be brought to a successful conclusion." As to the acute unemployment situation the king said:

"A most pressing problem confronts you in unemployment and consequent world wide restriction of trade. This may be alleviated but it cannot be cured by legislative means."

Parliament was opened with all the pomp and ceremony and glitter of pre-war days. The king was accompanied to Westminster by Queen Many and the Prince of Wales. The gailery was filled with notables, representing the empire and all the great powers of the world as the king attired in purple and gold, read his speech from the gilded throng.

It was the first time that the king had personally addressed parliament on opening day since before the world war. Especial precautions had been taken to give him and the other members of the royal family every protection as they rode in state from Buckingham palace to parliament building. Soldiers in red boots and bear skin shakes lined the route. Secret service men mingled with the vast crowds that f. Med the sidewalks. A heavy cordon of policemen surrounded parliament building.

Cleveland, Feb. 15. - Priests, merchants and others to close their seminars, parishioners and friends ! of many religious beliefs packed St. John's cathedral this morning when a solemn requiem mass was said for the repose of the soul of the loved Bishop of Cleveland diocese, Right Rev. John P. Farrelly.

During the solemn and impressive ceremony all that is mortal of the churchman lay in state in cathedral house guarded by members of the Knights of St. John in full uni- present.

Priests in black vestments sang the masses for the dead and those who had come to know the prelate not only as a bishop of souls but as a lover of his fellow man sobbed

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the body will be removed to the cathedral where it will again lie in state until the pontifical high mass has been chanted Thursday morning by Archbishop William H. Moeller of Cincinnati and the funeral sermon preached by his old friend, Bishop John B. Morris, of Little Rock, Ark.

As a mark of public respect to the late prelate, city hall will be closed from 10 to 12 Thursday and city council last night by a resolution unanimousy adopted called upon

Persia has become the seat of a tremendous and spectacular struggle between Great Britain and soviet Russia with India the ultimate prize if the Russians are victorious. So many and so im portant have been the historical developments nearer home that the United States has learned but little of this thrilling warfare which is being waged with intrigue, diplomacy and even force of arms, but the result promises to have vast influence not only in the near east and the orient but upon world wide affairs. Persia is the bulwark between soviet Russia and India. Great Britain is maintaining a big army in Persia to keep back the red forces The British negotiated an agreement with Persia, but the Persian parliament has failed to ratify it. Smith, the 18-year-old girl, whose strange disappearance from home Sunday night, which caused the police and others to search for her for eighteen hours until she was found near Granville tells a strange story. Sortly after she left home at o'clock enroute for church, she passed four men on the street. does not say the men assaulted her, but there was a feeling came over her that some one had clapped a hand over her eyes and she does not remember any more until she came to her senses, at daybreak, Monday morning in Highwater, a village 10 miles northwest of here. She then walked the distance back to Granville where she fell by the roadway from exhaustion and was carried in a semi-conscious condition into a farmhouse, and the police who were notified brought her to this city. She was garbed in woman's clothes when she left home, but when found she was clad in a sweater, everalls and rubber boots which she secured at the Seward farm house north of the city. She was traced that far and there the trail ended. There is every indication that she walked forty miles during the night. Physicians say she suffered an attack of amnesia. Rest and quiet they say will restore her health. The girl has never been ill in her life.

BIG DIPLOMATIC STAKES ON THE TABLE.

New lamps for old is the basis of all diplomacy. Nations abrogate old treaties if offered newer advantages, trading in what they have at the highest value obtainable. The nation that can make the most advantageous treaties is the one that has the least necessity to make any. It can pretty nearly name its own terms when it comes to swapping lamps.

The Harding administration will have the most comfortable seat at the table when conversation with Europe are resumed after March 4. It should be able to make a fine collection of treaties, getting back any old ones it may not care to have outstanding any longer and giving out in their place models most approved from the American standpoint. This will follow from the position the United States has come to occupy as the result of the war and also as the result of what followed the war. America did not sign the treaty of Versailles, America did not make peace with Germany. But it fought in the war, shared in the victory and still has a word to say in the settlements.

That word it will be for the Harding administration to pronounce. Whatever it is Europe will have to come up to it, is indeed willing and anxious to come up to it and has been waiting with some impatience to hear it spoken. If it should be on the subject of limitation of armaments, it cannot be doubted it will be heard with readiness. If consent to a universal disarmament program is a consideration insisted upon by this country in the making of new treaties or the refunding of debts, Europe will not be likely to hesitate long. If it is a new association of nations avoiding the obligations to which the United States objected in the Versailles league, that proposition, too, probably will be received without much regret.

It is not to be assumed that America wants nothing from Europe. No nation can be economically independent of the rest of the world. America wants a market in Europe for one thing, and is therefore interested in seeing stability restored there. That will be the object the Harding administration will have in the settlement it will offer, and the attainment of this object will be of advantage to all countries. Europe must buy and produce on the old scale before the world can settle down and pay its debts.

Diplomacy has a busy time ahead. The world's affairs are in for a complete overhauling in which about every treaty now written must be produced on the counter. The advantages in this great audit are largely with the United States, and with the mandate the new administration has goes an opportunity for constructive statesmanship perhaps never equaled in the history of American diplomacy. Every American will hope the advantage will be used wisely for his own country and for the world .- Kansas City Star.

EDISON, OPTIMIST.

Though Edison is seventy-four, his reactions to the world of matter and the world of mystery are as scintillant as ever. He tells an interviewer that he can't give advice to young men on how to achieve success in business. "Who can?" he adds naively. But in a letter written August 9, 1917, he gave this recipe as the first rule of success for a young man: "Get a job and do more than he is expected to do." He has taken his own medicine, and in large doses. Mr. Edison has always worked without paying the slightest attention to the clock-hands. And he has done the unexpected. He has had, as Wordsworth said of Isaac Newton, "a mind forever voyaging through strange seas of thought alone." He went beyond the confines to lonely regions of pioneer research where none could help him. There is much for aspirant youth to ponder in Edison's words:

"All I know is that if a man has reached the age of twentyone and is dead mentally, no amount of advice, example or experience will ever change him in the slightest. If at some period between twelve and sixteen he can be interested in some subject and become enthusiastic, he will advance and become a high type of man. If not, he will be a mental dead one.'

Edison himself began as a newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railway, at fifteen printing a little newspaper of his own in an and the same interests that they over 144,000 were filed by single old freight car that he also used as a laboratory for his incessant tinkerings with electrical and mechanical apparatus. He got his chance to study telegraphy for saving the child of a stationmaster from being crushed beneath the wheels of a train. The "luck" he has had has been three parts pluck and persistence, building on the endowment of a phenomenal mentality. Nature was reluctant to tell him many of the secrets whereon the invention and the perfection of processes were based; but he was dauntless, indefatigable and pitiless to self while in pursuit of truth. All that Edison is in the general acknowledgment of pankind he has earned.

HE KEPT HIS COURAGE.

Uncle Joe Cannon, former speaker of the house of representatives, is the only man in public life today whose name appeared on the ballot with Abraham Lincoln's when the latter was elected President of the United States.

the threat of secession. Lincoln remained in Springfield and after the campaign Cannon saw him when he, in a day coach without a companion was on his way to Charleston, Ill., to meet for the last time in this life the old stepmother who called him "my boy Abe" up to the time of his death, and she lived longer than Lincoln lived. "She was an illiterate, plain, homespun woman," Mr. Cannon recalls, "but she was good stuff. She had been kind to Lincoln and gloried in his success. She died Italian government a gold medal vention's choice. To me there is no greater example in the history of the human race of magnificent leadership and patriotism than that of Abraham Lincoln during that historic conflict," says "Uncle Joe," with characteristic positiveness. He gives a word picture of Lincoln's position in those days: "And all the while, with all the in the legion of honor. abuse, with the quarrels in the cabinet, with the premier suggesting that the conduct of the war had better be left to him; with the failures of generals, with the universal criticism of generals, of colonals and even of captains; with the false reports that back the message from Europe that were sent by wire and correspondence, with doubt and fear, with the credit of the republic disappearing-this tall, gaunt, sad-longer a pleasure. She says that tesed man, born of the children of toil, kept his courage."

The Main street entrance to the court house is just now beginning to loom up in a very attractive manner the arches over the doors and windows being in place and the decorative work now being put in. It will make an attractive piece of work and opinion differs as to whether the Main or Detroit streets will have the better of it in handsome entrances.

Some fellow came and swiped my cow while I was fast asleep but sorrow does not crease my brow, I do not wail and weep. And if I wept and wailed at all it is because I'm sick to think a fellow has the gall to play so punk a trick. For it is plain his heart is wrong, his conscience is a fake; his life will be no grand sweet song, but just one long drawn ache. He'll skulk about his native land, a haunted moral wreck, in fear that some policeman's hand will grasp him by the neck. He'll drift along from crime to crime, instead of earning kale, and when he isn't serving time he'll be out hunting bail. And so I don't denounce or hate the boob who pinched my cow; I merely pity such a skate, and mourn his future, now. When any person does me harm, at first my words are grim;

I say I'd give an upland farm to even things with him. If I could meet him face to face, with ardor I maintain, I'd strew his remnants o'er the place like leaves upon the plain. But when my royal wrath has cooled, and I have ceased to cuss, I soon regret the things I drooled, and all my foolish fuss. A punishment severe and strong is sure as things can be to hit the man who's doing wrongout 'twill not come from me.

The Xenia Shamrocks, which has been moving at a lively clip during recent games, expects to furnish local fans with some real sport at the Rink Tuesday night, when the club stacks up against the Springfield K. of C.

The Springfield lads are boasting about the best there is in independent basketball circles in the neighboring city, and are confident of a victory here, following the defeat they handed the green and white quintet at Springfield, when the local club was yet in its infancy.

For this reason the game should feel that they have been considerably tempered since their natal battle with this team in Springfield and hope to even the score here.

The Central High School basketball team will wind up a week, more or less given to basketball Friday night, when the blue and white tossers and Circleville high mix things on the local court.

It seems that when these two aggregations get together at the Rink there will be more than just two teams battling, for it is the ambition of Captain LeSourd and his mates to even an old score, with the Circles lads while they have them handy.

Last year Circleville defeated the local pastimers down at Circleville in a way that was sad to mention. It will be remembered that the high school five was crippled to some extent by the absence of players during most of the season, and the Circleville game was no exception. Coach Confer believes that his proteges will be in fine fettle for the fray here Friday and that the Circleville cagers will have a different tale to tell.

Winning the third game at the Rink Monday night from the Dayton Alpha Omegas, the Xenia Athletics claimed the series played with his team, the score of the final game being 30 to 12.

When Xenia Citizens Show a Way. There can be no reasons why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what an Xenia citizen says:

J. M. Stokesbury, 122 N. Columbus St., says: "When I leaned over to lick up anything and went to straighen again, a pain caught me in my ack and I wasn't able to straighten p for some time. I finally got so ad off. I was laid up for quite awhile nd I ached all over. I got Doan's idney Pills from Sayre & Hemphill's rug store and after I had used four exes, I was entirely cured. It has een several years since and I haven't ad any return of .he trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't imply ask for a kidney remedy-get oan's Kidney Pills-the same that ir. Stokesbury had. Foster-Milburg o., Mir.s, Buffalo, N. Y.

TAKES PAIN OUT

Keep Sloan's handy for backache strains and sprains, too

SLOAN'S Liniment has been sold for 39 years. Today, it is more popular than ever. There can be but one answer—Sloan's produces re-

Applied without rubbing, it penetra to the afflicted part, bringing relief from rheumatic twinges, sciatica; sore, stiff, strained muscles; backaches, sprains, and other external pains, often the result of exposure. It leaves no mussiness, skin stain or clogged pores. Get a large bottle for greater economy. Keep it handy for use when needed. Your druggist has it. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40.

RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

Concentrated Heat Penetrates Right Down to Pain Spot -Brings Ease at Once

Rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, straips, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try "Red Pepper Rub" and you will have the quickest relief known.

Nothing has such concentrated, pene-Nothing has such concentrated, pene-trating heat as red peppers. Instant relief. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes, it warms the sore spot through and through. Frees the blood circulation, breaks up the con-gestion—and pain is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Almost instant relief awaits you. Use it for colds in chest. No matter what you have used for pain or congestion, don't fail to try Red Pepper Rub.

Hands and Hip. Itched and Burned Badly.

"I was troubled with eczema for several months. It broke out in little pimples on my arms, hands, and right hip, and itched and burned so badly that I didn't know what to do. I was unable to o any work.
"I saw an advertisemen for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I bought more and after using one cake of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Marie T. Hoffmann, R. F. D. 1, Chelsen, Wis., June 23, 1920.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow-complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor-you have a bad taste in your mouth a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets-a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards 'Olive Tablets are a purely vegetablecompound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.
To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhooddays you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.

Takes but a moment to prepare,
and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a resarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat aitment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

The Club meets each week, according to Mrs. Thomas, and gives a program of readings, music and addresses. The president is Mr. Penrose, of Westerville, Ohio. Dr. D. A. Long, former president of Antioch College was elected to membership in the club by virtue of his former residence in Ohio, and is one of the club's most active and enthusiastic members.

The club is now arranging for a playlet depicting an old time rural school. There are more people from Ohio in Tampa, than from any other state, says Mrs. Thomas, Michigan ranking second in the number of its sons and daughters in the Southern City.

The South Florida Fair is now in progress in Tampa and the city crowded with visitors. Displays are exhibited from Mexico and Canada as well as the local exhibits. "My mother and I greatly enjoy the daily visit of the Gazette. It seems like a letter from home,' says Mrs. Thomas in closing.

Parliament was opened with all the pomp and ceremony and glitter of pre-war days. The king was accom-panied to Westminster by Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales. The gallery was filled with notables, representing the empire and all the great powers of the world as the king attired in purple and gold, read his speech from the gilded throng.

It was the first time that the king had personally addressed parliament on opening day since before the world war. Especial precautions had been taken to give him and the other members of the royal family every protection as they rode in state from Buckingham palace to parliament building. Soldiers in red boots and bear skin shakos lined the route. Secret service men mingled with the vast crowds that f.Med the sidewalks. A heavy cordon of policemen surrounded parliament building.

Seaman Held, Alleged Implicated in Scheme In the East.

Washington, Feb. 15 .- On the heels of rumors of a plot to blow up the presidential yacht May flower, a seaman on the yacht was placed under arrest today, the navy department announced.

Navy department officials stated that the seaman had asked permission of a boatswain to be allowed to go off duty from the Mayflower at a certain hour during the night, stating that he wished to bring a "package" aboard and intimating that he would be willing to pay a sum of money for the privilege. It was learned that he was to meet a civilian at an appointed spot in Washington.

REGILS DEFEATED

The Xenia Regils were defeated by the Osborn Heralds on the Osborn High School Court Monday night 40-24 in a well played game.

The local lads played a close guarding game in the initial half, and were leading the scoring procession at the end of the period by the score of 20-14. The Heralds uncocked a lucky shower of goals in the last few minutes that spelled defeat for the Regil quintet. The locals were outweighed and handicapped by the small floor. The lineup and summary:

BIG DIPLOMATIC STAKES ON THE TABLE.

New lamps for old is the basis of all diplomacy. Nations abrogate old treaties if offered newer advantages, trading in what they have at the highest value obtainable. The nation that can make the most advantageous treaties is the one that has the least necessity to make any. It can pretty nearly name its own terms when it comes to swapping lamps.

The Harding administration will have the most comfortable seat at the table when conversation with Europe are resumed after March 4. It should be able to make a fine collection of treaties, getting back any old ones it may not care to have outstanding any longer and giving out in their place models most approved from the American standpoint. This will follow from the position the United States has come to occupy as the result of the war and also as the result of what followed the war. America did not sign the treaty of Versailles, America did not make peace with Germany. But it fought in the war, shared in the victory and still has a word to say in the settlements.

That word it will be for the Harding administration to pronounce. Whatever it is Europe will have to come up to it, is indeed willing and anxious to come up to it and has been waiting with some impatience to hear it spoken. If it should be on the subject of limitation of armaments, it cannot be doubted it will be heard with readiness. If consent to a universal disarmament program is a consideration insisted upon by this country in the making of new treaties or the refunding of debts, Europe will not be likely to hesitate long. If it is a new association of nations avoiding the obligations to which the United States objected in the Versailles league, that proposition, too, probably will be received without much regret.

It is not to be assumed that America wants nothing from Europe. No nation can be economically independent of the rest of the world. America wants a market in Europe for one thing, and is therefore interested in seeing stability restored there. That will be the object the Harding administration will have in the settlement it will offer, and the attainment of this object will be of advantage to all countries. Europe must buy and produce on the old scale before the world can settle down and pay its debts.

Diplomacy has a busy time ahead. The world's affairs are in for a complete overhauling in which about every treaty now written must be produced on the counter. The advantages in this great audit are largely with the United States, and with the mandate the new administration has goes an opportunity for constructive statesmanship perhaps never equaled in the history of Every American will hope the advantage American diplomacy. will be used wisely for his own country and for the world .- Kansas City Star.

EDISON, OPTIMIST.

Though Edison is seventy-four, his reactions to the world of matter and the world of mystery are as scintillant as ever. He tells an interviewer that he can't give advice to young men on how to achieve success in business. "Who can?" he adds naively. But in a letter written August 9, 1917, he gave this recipe as the first rule of success for a young man: "Get a job and do more than he is expected to do." He has taken his own medicine, and in large doses. Mr. Edison has always worked without paying the slightest attention to the clock-hands. And he has done the unexpected. He has had, as Wordsworth said of Isaac Newton, "a mind forever voyaging through strange seas of thought alone." He went beyond the confines to lonely regions of pioneer research where none could help him. There is much for aspirant youth to ponder in Edison's words:

"All I know is that if a man has reached the age of twentyone and is dead mentally, no amount of advice, example or experience will ever change him in the slightest. If at some period ings. He got his chance to study telegraphy for saving the child of a stationmaster from being crushed beneath the wheels of a train. The "luck" he has had has been three parts pluck and persistence, building on the endowment of a phenomenal mentality. Nature was reluctant to tell him many of the secrets whereon the invention and the perfection of processes were based; but he was dauntless, indefatigable and pitiless to self while in pursuit of has lectured throughout Denmark from one cent to many thousands truth. All that Edison is in the general acknowledgment of pankind he has earned.

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF LOUIS XV

February 15, 1710 Louis X.V, King of France, was the great grandson of the famous Louis XIV, and was born five years before the death of that most famous of French monarchs. No one expected him to become king, particularly as he was the third son and not the eldest; but his two eldest brothers died and his mother and father were carried off by a mysterious disease so that Louis at the age of five, was the only heir to the throne.

He reigned at first with the aid of a succession of weak ministers. Then for a time, he decided to keep all the power in his hands and be the same kind of autocrat his great grandfather had been. Unfortunately, Louis XIV had the ability that Louis XV had not.

He married Maria, daughter of the King of Poland, who bore him seven children and seemed for a Then he fell under the influence of including the membership, emblem, a series of mistresses one of whom entertainment and publicity commithim to join his fighting armies and his loyal country nick-named him, o'clock.

Some fellow came and swiped my cow while I was fast asleep, but sorrow does not crease my brow, I do not wail and weep. And if I wept and wailed at all it is because I'm sick to think a fellow has the gall to play so punk a trick. For it is plain his heart is wrong, his conscience is a fake; his life will be no grand sweet song, but just one long drawn ache. He'll skulk about his native land, a haunted moral wreck, in fear that some policeman's hand will grasp him by the neck. He'll drift along from crime to crime, instead of earning kale, and when he isn't serving time he'll be out hunting bail. And so I don't denounce or hate the boob who pinched my cow; I merely pity such a skate, and mourn his future, now. When any person does me harm, at first my words are grim; I say I'd give an upland farm to even things with him. If I could meet him face to face, with ardor I maintain, I'd strew his remnants o'er the place like leaves upon the plain. But when my royal wrath has cooled, and I have ceased to cuss, I soon regret the things I drooled, and all my foolish fuss. A punishment severe and strong is sure as things can be to hit the man who's doing wrongout 'twill not come from me.

The Xenia Shamrocks, which has been moving at a lively clip during recent games, expects to furnish local fans with some real sport at the Rink Tuesday night, when the club stacks up against the Springfield K. of C.

The Springfield lads are boasting about the best there is in independant basketball circles in the neighboring city, and are confident of a victory here, following the defeat they handed the green and white quintet at Springfield, when the local club was yet in its infancy.

For this reason the game should feel that they have been considerably tempered since their natal battle with this team in Springfield and hope to even the score here.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM PLAYS CIRCLEVILLE

The Central High School basketball team will wind up a week, more or less given to basketball Friday night, when the blue and white tossers and Circleville high mix things on the local court.

It seems that when these two aggregations get together at the Rink there will be more than just two teams battling, for it is the ambition of Captain LeSourd and his mates to even an old score, with the Circles lads while they have them handy.

Last year Circleville defeated the local pastimers down at Circleville in a way that was sad to mention. It will be remembered that the high school five was crippled to some extent by the absence of players during most of the season, and the Circleville game was no exception. Coach Confer believes that his proteges will be in fine fettle for the fray here Friday and that the Circleville cagers will have a different tale to tell.

Winning the third game at the Rink Monday night from the Dayton Alpha Omegas, the Xenia Athletics claimed the series played with his team, the score of the final game being 30 to 12.

NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

Sickly, ailing women make unhappy homes, and after reading Mrs. Natale's letter one can imagine how this home was transformed by her restoration to health. Every woman who suffers from such ailments should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. It is surely worth while.

well, and gained 12 pounds.

"In December, 1913, I had a fearful cough, and my physician ordered me to change climate immediately. I went to San Antonio, Texas, and entered a sanatorium. Left there and came to Oklahoma City in October, 1915. Had no appetite, could not sleep, had night sweats and was losing from one to three pounds a week. I also had catarrh of the bowels, which the doctors had been unable to relieve.

"Relatives urged me to try Milks" unable to relieve.

"Relatives urged me to try Milks Emulsion. I did so and began to improve, slowly at first, but steadily. My weight has increased 12 pounds, I have no temperature, and my cough is about gone. I can eat heartily, sleep well, and am working at my trade again."—V. W. Neff, 610 No. Dewey St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Nature does wonders in fighting off disease, if given the chance. Milks Emulsion is a powerful help in providing strength and flesh. It costs nothing to try.

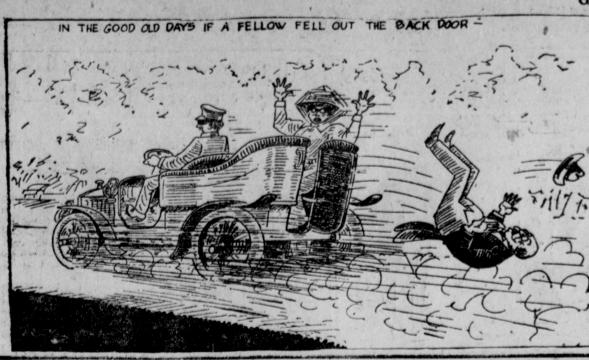

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

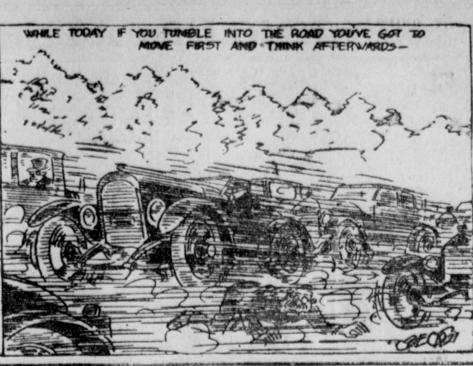

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Solid by druggists everywhere.

That John R. Patterson, former Superintendent of Schools here and now located at Bucyrus, is one of seven educators recommended by Dr. Strayor o Columbia unversity to the board of education of the city of Dayton as superintendent there, is the information received here indirectly. Mr. Patterson went to Bucyrus from this city two years ago. He annually pursues a summer course at Columbia University, where his acquaintance with Dr. Strayer evidently ripened. The yacancy in the Dayton schools was occasioned when the board of education there asked for the resignation of Superintendent Frank Miller.

"No-To-Bac" has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a cigarette, cigar, pipe, or for a chew, just place a harmless No-To-Bac tablet in your mouth instead, to help relieve that awful desire. Shortly the habit may be completely broken, and you are better off mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't release you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.

Takes but a moment to prepare,
and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine membranes of the throat and chest. Fine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be nersistently loose from the

The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat aitment.

XENIA PEOPLE ARE MEMBERS OF OHIO

The Ohio Club, made up of Ohio tourists and former residents, now in Tampa, Fla., is truly representative of the state that has the largest representation in Tampa, according to Mrs Minnie B. Thomas, of this city, who is now in Tampa.

The Club meets each week, according to Mrs. Thomas, and gives a program of readings, music and addresses. The president is Mr. Penrose, of Westerville, Ohio. Dr. D. A. Long, former president of Antioch College was elected to mem-bership in the club by virtue of his former residence in Ohio, and is one of the club's most active and enthusiastic members.

The club is now arranging for a playlet depicting an old time rural school. There are more people from Ohio in Tampa, than from any other state, says Mrs. Thomas, Michigan ranking second in the number of its sons and daughters) in the Southern City.

The South Florida Fair is now in progress in Tampa and the city crowded with visitors. Displays are exhibited from Mexico and Canada as well as the local exhibits. "My mother and I greatly enjoy the daily visit of the Gazette. It seems like a letter from home,' says Mrs.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

ON THE DESERT CHAPTER 91

Dick was better, but even so he was far from well. He still cough ed, but I could see at once that his loneliness had worn on him. He encouraged Junior to prattle every moment when I was not with him Once during the few days he said:

But at other times the loneliness of it frightens me. I feel shut off and shut out from every human being. That is its facination for some, perhaps. But I guess I like companion ship too well. ship too well to ever care for the desert very long."

I could not see why anyone should live on the desert unless it was absolutely necessary, but I did not say so to Dick. It seemed indescribably lonely to me. The white sand all I was confident that I could pick up about us, the cacti and sage bush, the cloudless sky that made you feel an ache for a good shower-all oppressed me.

Thus we planned to make livable the year we must spend far from human companionship. And I was surprised how much I found to do, how fast the time went. I took great pains that Dick's food should be dainty and nourishing; that he should sleep in the air as much as possible—we had swung a hammock outside the tent for him-and that he should not become overtired. It was surprising how quickly he began to show decided improvement.

"It's because I am not lonely any more, Nan."
